

Data Map Template

In this exercise, you will look at how information flows within your business/organization, including any disclosures (information provided outside the organization). This tool will help you to complete a Data Map showing the flow of personal information through the system - from collection and use all the way to disclosures (sharing outside the organization) and destruction. This step will help to analyze and then assess privacy risks so that you can mitigate any potential for a privacy breach.

Please use the fillable forms in the template below:

